MBU

Voice

Active voice :-subject performs the action
(Subject + Verb + Object)

The teacher explained the lesson.

Passive voice:-Passive Voice,the subject receives the action
Object + Helping Verb + Past Participle of Main Verb + (by + Subject)

The lesson was explained by the teacher

Some important rule with structure

Indefinite tense	active	passive
Present	Sub + v_1 + obj	Object + is/am/are + v_3 + (by + Subject)
Past	Sub + v_2 + obj	Object + was/were + v_3 + (by + Subject)
Future	Sub + shall/will+ v_1 + obj	Object + shall/will + v_3 + (by + Subject)
model	Sub + model+ v_1 + obj	Object + model + be + v_3 + (by + Subject)

Example:-
1) The manager approves the report.→ The report is approved by the manager
2) The company launched a new product.→ A new product was launched by the company
3) The team will submit the proposal.→ The proposal will be submitted by the team
4) The engineer can design the system. → The system can be designed by the engineer

Continuous tense	active	passive
Present	Sub + is/am/are + v_4 + obj	Object + is/am/are + being + v_3 + (by + Subject)
Past	Sub + was/were+ v_4 + obj	Object + was/were +being+ v_3 + (by + Subject)
Future	Sub + shall/will+ be + v_4 + obj	No passive
model	Sub + model+ v1 + obj	No passive

Example:-

DREAM. BELIEVE. ACHIEVE

The manager is reviewing the documents. → The documents are being reviewed by the manager

The teacher was explaining the lesson. →The lesson was being explained by the teacher

Perfect tense	active	passive
Present	Sub + has/have + v_3 + obj	Object + has/have + been + v_3 + (by + Subject)
Past	Sub + had + v_3 + obj	Object + had + been + v_3 + (by + Subject)
Future	Sub + shall/will+ have + v_3 + obj	Object + shall/will + have been + v_3 + (by + Subject)
model	Sub + model+ have + v_3 + obj	Object + shall/will + have been + v_3 + (by + Subject)

Example:-
She has written a letter. → A letter has been written by her.
They had completed the work. → The work had been completed by them.
He will have finished the task. → The task will have been finished by him
She must have read the book. → The book must have been read by her.

Note:- Perfect Continuous Tense does not have a proper passive voice form.

Interrogative Sentence (Active → Passive Voice)

1. Yes/No Type Questions:- Bring helping verb to the beginning
Do you write letters? → Are letters written by you?
Did he complete the work?→ Was the work completed by him?
Has she finished the homework?→Has the homework been finished by her?
Will they deliver the parcel?→ Will the parcel be delivered by them?

2. Wh-Questions (Who, What, When, Why, How):- Put Wh-Questions helping verb to the beginning
Who wrote this poem?→By whom was this poem written?
What did he eat?→What was eaten by him?
Why are you closing the door?→Why is the door being closed by you?
When will he finish the work?→When will the work be finished by him?
How has she solved the problem?→How has the problem been solved by her?

Imperative sentence

1. With Object
Active Voice (A.V.): V_1 + object

Passive Voice (P.V.): Let + object + be + V_3
Examples:-
Open the window. → Let the window be opened.
Write a letter. → Let a letter be written.

2. Without Object
When there is no object in the sentence, we use the following structure:
You are ordered / requested / advised / forbidden etc. + to + V_1
Examples:-
Go away. → You are ordered to go away.
Come in. → You are requested to come in.
Work hard. → You are advised to work hard.

3. Moral Suggestion
Obj + should be + V_3
Examples:-
Respect your parents. → Your parents should be respected.
Obey the rules. → The rules should be obeyed.

Infinitive(helping verb + to + v_1)

When you have a sentence with "to + verb" (infinitive form) and you want to make it passive,
Active:- To + V_1 (base form of verb)
Passive:-To + be + V_3 (past participle form)

to do → to be done
to make → to be made to help → to be helped

I am to do it.→ It is to be done by me.
You are to write it in ink.→It is to be written in ink.
You need to carry your passport.→Your passport needs to be carried by you.
You have to choose a dress.→A dress has to be chosen by you.
We had to file a case.→A case had to be filed by us.
They will have to check all documents.→All documents will have to be checked.

Causative Verbs: LET, MAKE

These verbs show that someone causes another person to do something.

⚙ Active Voice Rule:-When we use these verbs in Active Voice, we use the bare infinitive (verb without "to").

Subject + let/make + object + base verb

She let me go.
I made him wash all the clothes.

⚙ Passive Voice Rule:-When we change them into Passive Voice, we use "to" + verb (infinitive form).

She let me go.→I was allowed/permitted by her to go.
I made him wash all the clothes.→He was made to wash all the clothes by me.

⚠ Note on "LET"

"Let" has different meanings depending on the sentence.
In Passive Voice, we usually change "let" to allowed or permitted.

Let me play.→I may be allowed to play.
Let him do this work.→He may be allowed to do this work.

"Verbs Followed by Adjectives"

Some verbs are not followed by an object but by an adjective that describes the subject.These verbs are called Linking Verbs (or Sense Verbs), because they link the subject with its quality (adjective).
Common Verbs Followed by Adjectives:
1. smell
2. taste
3. feel
4. sound
5. look
6. seem
7. appear
8. remain
9. become
10. grow

Active:Subject + Linking Verb + Adjective
Passive (sense verbs): Subject + be verb + adjective + when + pronoun + be verb + past participle

The curd smells sour.→The curd is sour when it is smelt.
Quinine tastes bitter→ Quinine is bitter when it is tasted.
This surface feels smooth.→This surface is smooth when it is felt.
The soup tastes salty.→The soup is salty when it is tasted.
The music sounds pleasant.→The music is pleasant when it is heard.
The mango looks ripe.→The mango is ripe when it is seen.